Join the Sociology Club!
The Sociology Club serves as a resource for UIUC students interested in Sociology. The club provides academic knowledge and guidance, volunteer opportunities through community outreach projects, and social activities to get to know those in the program better. It is open to all sociology majors, minors, and others interested in sociological theory, thought, and social issues. The Sociology Club provides a great place for students to network about graduate schools, job opportunities, professional conferences, and working beside faculty and staff of the Sociology Department.

Diversity Weekend at University of Minnesota
The Humphrey Institute of Public Affairs at the University of Minnesota is sponsoring a diversity weekend for prospective students, November 12th and 13th, 2009. Up to $400 in travel expenses will be reimbursed for those coming from more than 200 miles away. Prospective students will have the opportunity to meet faculty, staff, current students and alumni, and learn more about our nationally ranked graduate programs in Public Policy; Urban and Regional Planning; Development Practice in International Development; and Science, Technology and Environmental Policy.

We offer concentrations and specializations in a wide range of domestic and international areas, and we also offer joint degrees with the schools of Business, Law, Social Work, Public Health, Design, and Civil Engineering.

The deadline for applying to attend Diversity Weekend is October 14, 2009.

The application can be found at: http://www.hhh.umn.edu/admissions/diversity.html

More information about the Humphrey Institute can be found on our website at www.hhh.umn.edu. Do not hesitate to contact us with questions.

VOICES OF ILLINOIS Video Project

This is an opportunity to participate in the “Voices of Illinois” video project as part of “Inclusive Illinois. One Campus, Many Voices”. Additional information can be found at http://inclusiveillinois.illinois.edu/.

The Office of Equal Opportunity and Access is partnering with ATLAS (Applied Technologies for Learning in the Arts & Sciences) to create "Voices of Illinois." Faculty, staff, and students are encouraged to participate in a 5- to 10-minute interview about diversity. The objective of the project is to capture the "many voices" at Illinois; to educate the campus community about diversity and inclusivity; and to increase awareness, sensitivity, and respect for human differences. If you are interested in participating, please email atlas-av@illinois.edu with the subject heading "Voices of Illinois." Colleen Cook, Digital Media Coordinator, will contact you to schedule a time to meet during the fall semester. Please spread the word to friends and colleagues on campus so that they can participate in the “Voices of Illinois!”

Korea Workshop Kick-Off Presentation
FRIDAY, September 11 @ 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. (Lucy Ellis Lounge)*

Topic: Koreans and Race from Seoul to LA

Speaker Nadia Y. Kim (Sociology, Loyola Marymount University)
Discussant Hyunhee Kim (hkim19@illinois.edu)

Nadia Y. Kim is Assistant Professor of Sociology at Loyola Marymount University. She received her Ph.D. at the University of Michigan-Ann Arbor, where she was an American Sociological Association Minority Fellow. She was also a postdoctoral fellow at the Center for Comparative Immigration Studies at University of California-San Diego. Kim's book Imperial Citizens: Koreans and Race from Seoul to L.A. (Stanford, 2008) is an exploration of how immigrants navigate American race inequality and ideology (owing to US power abroad) across borders. Imperial Citizens won two American Sociological Association awards in 2009: Book of the Year Award from the Asia and Asian America section and the Oliver Cromwell Cox Book Award from the Racial and Ethnic Minorities section. She is currently working on a project about successful immigrant children’s dealings with ‘race’ and gender inequalities and another one on Latino and Asian immigrants’ activism around environmental injustice.
